

healthy ACTIVITIES

SUMMARY

NCC understands the important role that co-curricular activities play in a student's experience in our community. We are committed to providing opportunities for students to engage safely in activities that encourage their physical, emotional, social, and spiritual growth.

HEALTH & SAFETY MEASURES - OVERVIEW

- Cohorting
- Enhanced hygiene practices
- Staff and student training
- Signage
- Physical distancing
- Masking protocols
- Increased cleaning
- Decreased shared items
- Controlled traffic in buildings and on campus

healthy ACTIVITES

STUDENT LIFE

This year, in response to what we know will be a need for our community, NCC has created a Student Life time in the regular cadence of our week. Mr. James Kryger will be leading a group of teachers and students who are designing and facilitating activities for our class-cohorts to focus on community-building, fun, and student engagement. Each week and month will look different based on our public health landscape and the creativity of the leadership team, but no matter what the restrictions at the time, students will be given regular breaks from focussed classes to recharge and connect. We look forward to seeing some unique and creative things happening during this time.

CHAPEL

Our chapel program continues to be a core part of our school programming on Monday mornings. To start the year we will not be having large gatherings, so our chapel leadership has pivoted to new ways of sharing, teaching, and worshipping that will happen within the context of classroom cohorts. Students will have a unique opportunity to discuss what they are learning in small groups and with their teacher on a weekly basis.

ADVISORY

Advisory, as a branch of our Student Services department, will also be held in classroom-cohorts and students will be engaged in fundamental learning about academic skills, spiritual formation, emotional well-being, and academic pathway planning.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Students in physical education classes will be given clear instructions about healthy practices for safety with equipment and during training. Classes will focus on individual activities and training and will progress to group, team, and possibly even competition based on the public health landscape at the time.

ATHLETICS

NCC continues to connect with both OFSAA and also the Christian Schools Athletics Association to find opportunities for students to engage in specific sports and activities that are individual in nature. Team sports will be delayed until it is safer to proceed.

THE ARTS

NCC maintains a commitment to the arts and will be working with students, and within all of the Public Health guidelines, to support students in their pursuit of music, art, and drama. Public gatherings will not be held to start the year, so teachers will be creative in finding opportunities for students to practise and present their work to public audiences.

CLUBS

Certain clubs will be offered online for students and the start of others will be delayed until it is safer to meet in person. Opportunities will be provided in dorms and in school for students to engage in activities that support community-building, making friends, pursuing interests, and building portfolios of experience for post-secondary institutions.

FAQ